Dometic Unveils the CTT4000 Waterless Toilet: A Sustainable Solution in RV Sanitation

Düsseldorf, Germany – August 30, 2025

Dometic introduces the CTT4000, a waterless separation cassette toilet. Designed for sustainability and off-grid independence, the CTT4000 eliminates the need for water and chemicals, offering a hygienic, odor-free, and environmentally responsible solution. We've also launched an upgrade kit that allows users to convert their existing chemical toilets into separation toilets, making cleaner and more resource-conscious sanitation widely accessible.

Dometic proudly presents the Dometic CTT4000, a waterless separation cassette toilet designed to elevate mobile sanitation through sustainability, hygiene, and user autonomy. This innovation marks a significant milestone in Dometic's commitment to environmentally responsible design and is the result of a strategic partnership with Arwinger, the original inventor of the cassette separation toilet.

Building on the compact and ergonomic foundation of the CT4000 series, the CTT4000 sets a new standard for off-grid travel. It eliminates the need for water and chemicals, minimizes odors, and significantly extends emptying intervals—making it the ideal solution for travelers seeking independence and reliability.

Retrofitting Made Simple

For users with existing chemical toilets, Dometic now offers an upgrade kit that allows for easy conversion to a separation toilet. This retrofit solution enables a smooth transition to a more hygienic and resource-conscious system without the need for a full replacement.

Designed for Cleanliness and Performance

The CTT4000 features a PMMA-coated bowl surface, ensuring effortless cleaning and preventing residue buildup. Its smart design guarantees that liquids consistently flow into the tank without interruption, thanks to the optimized connection between the bowl and tank. Additionally, a standard filling level sensor provides real-time monitoring of tank capacity, helping users avoid overfilling and maintain optimal performance.

With the launch of the CTT4000 and its retrofit kit, Dometic continues to lead the way in redefining mobile sanitation—offering practical, sustainable solutions for modern adventurers

Key Features of the Dometic CTT4000:

- Waterless operation with separate tanks for liquid and solid waste
- Extended range with fewer visits to disposal stations
- Hygienic handling and clean transport via integrated service flap
- Space-saving design featuring a 90° rotatable bowl

“We are setting new economic and ecological benchmarks in leisure vehicle sanitation,” said Anton Lundqvist, Chief Technology Officer at Dometic. “Thanks to our smart design capabilities, the CTT4000 offers a simple yet ingenious solution—no water, no chemicals, no unpleasant odors. It’s a cleaner, smarter choice for the planet and for our customers.”

Through an exclusive partnership, Dometic gains the rights to manufacture and market Arwinger’s innovative toilet systems starting in 2026. Visitors to this year’s Caravan Salon in Düsseldorf will get a first look at the prototypes, with full availability across the European market expected early next year.
