Dometic GO Hydration Kit wins ISPO Award

Stockholm, Sweden – March 3, 2023

The innovative and unique hydration kit from Dometic has been awarded the leading international sports platform ISPO's renowned ISPO Award. The water faucet and jug, part of the new Dometic Go car camping concept will be available in Europe from March 2023.

The leading international sports platform ISPO honours the industry's highlight products and services. The award serves not only the media and retailers, but above all, consumers as an orientation aid and basis for purchasing decisions in a multi-layered market. Dometic's soon to be available Dometic GO is designed to make a car camping an effortless.

The Dometic GO collection enables outdoor enthusiasts to get out quicker and stay out more comfortably and embrace the outdoors by creating a perfect base camp for outdoor adventures with family and friends.

The award winning Dometic GO Hydration Water Faucet & jug will changes the experience around handling the water on a camp site.

Water is an imperative essential when heading outdoors, and it tends to be consumed more than expected, especially when overlanding. The Dometic GO Water Jug's volume-maximizing design carries 11 litres of water, making the most of limited cargo space.

The innovative Dometic GO Water Faucet can be used with any water container, as it is not limited to the Dometic Go Water Jug. In addition, it dispenses the exact amount of water without wasting a drop. Wetting a toothbrush or filling a cooking pot can now become a fun job for a younger member at the camp site.

The Dometic GO Hydration Water Faucet & Jug as well as The Dometic GO car camping kits will be available in the European market now.
